

Two-boundary DDM on the KINARM interception data: why it fails

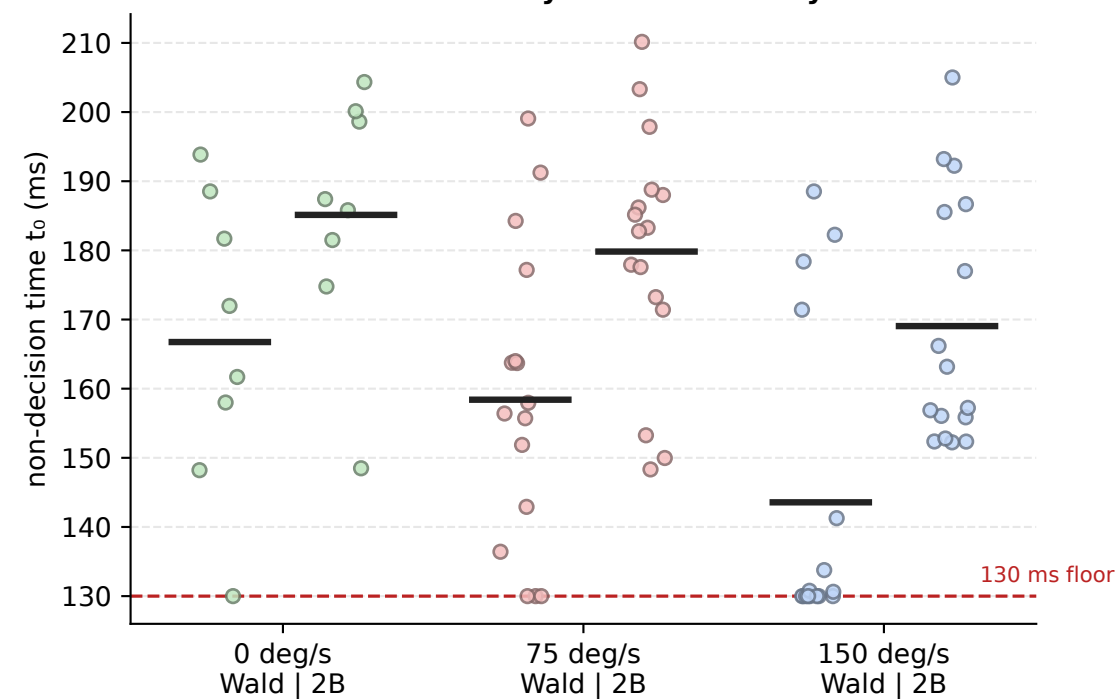

A The two-boundary RT distribution is too spread out

B The decision structure helps; the RT shape sinks it

C t_0 is inflated by ~22 ms in every cell

D ...yet it predicts the lead/lag gap well ($r = 0.72$)

